

During the COVID-19 pandemic, a lot of Western Petroleum employees are working twice as hard to ensure that we continue to deliver fuel oil to our customers and everyone is safe!

This includes fuel truck drivers, office staff, burner techs, service stations and many more.

We want to say thank you and shine a spotlight on those working through these scary times, giving all of us hope.

From the Management of Western Petroleum.